

ERASMUS

Mobility in Finland

We visited Finland, specifically Porvoo which is a small town near Helsinki. The best part of this experience, apart from travelling to another country for a week, without parents, was that we had the chance to make new friends and to finally see snow! (which is very very rare to us). It was also very fun when the girl that hosted me and myself cooked marshmallows with our friends.

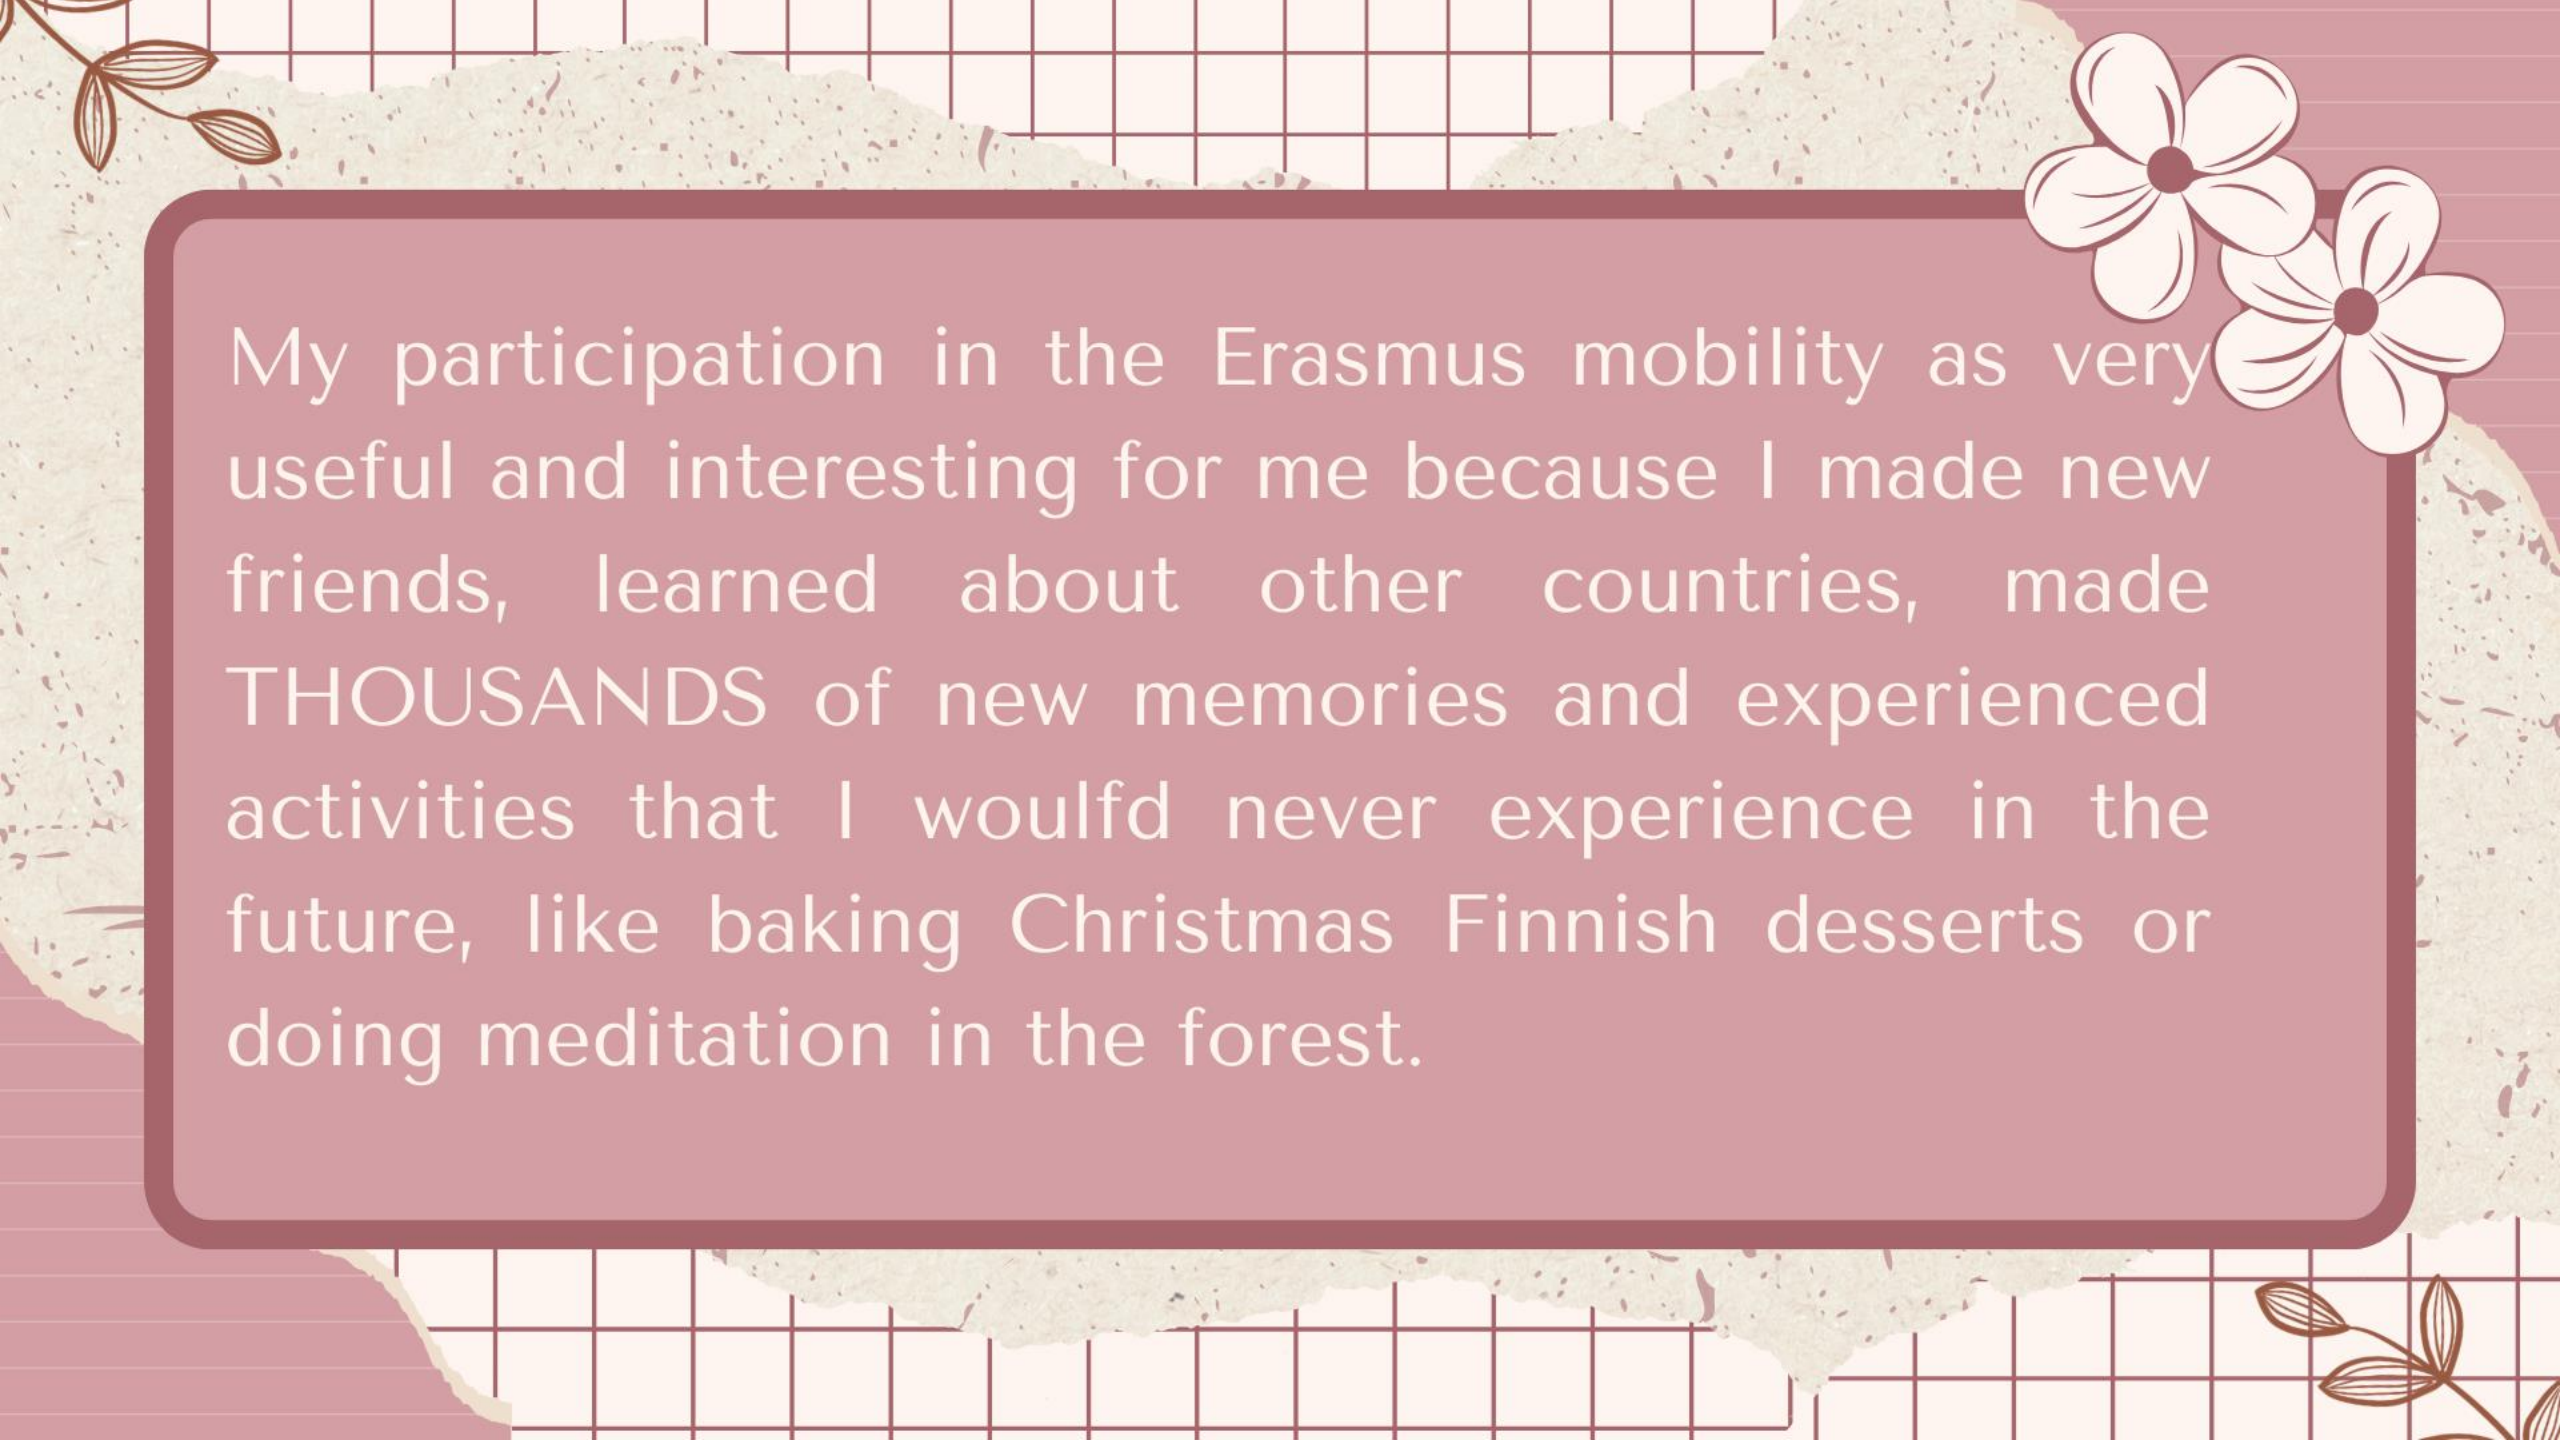

Learning activities

We did a lot of learning activities at the host school, such as:

- We went to the forest to do meditation and to awaken our senses.
- We went a day trip to Helsinki, visiting museums and cultural sights like the Ateneum Art Museum and Suomenlinna sea fortress.
- We visited the old town of Porvoo
- We also baked traditional Christmas sweets at the school
- We played board games, and we did a DIY Finnish Christmas decoration.

My participation in the Erasmus mobility was very useful and interesting for me because I made new friends, learned about other countries, made THOUSANDS of new memories and experienced activities that I would never experience in the future, like baking Christmas Finnish desserts or doing meditation in the forest.

I would, obviously, like to take part in another Erasmus project in the future because, i am a person who LOVES travelling and trying new things and Erasmus gives you the chance to go to another country that for millions of reasons you would never manage to go. You also get the chance to try new activities that you wouldn't even know about. Moreover, you might meet your life-long best friend through it. In my opinion, it's the best decision anyone could ever make and I would totally recommend it to others.
